Over 90 km of Lines & Trails – 9 Cable Cars – 7 Mountains

Austria's largest bike region!

The name says it all and Austria's largest bike region keeps its promise. More than 90 kilometers of lines & trails, 9 lifts on 7 mountains, 3 large practice areas for kids and beginners, Alpine gravel biking routes for every taste and an almost limitless network of mountain bike trails for all abilities. In short: Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn is a true playground for riders of all walks of life and of all abilities.

Austria's largest bike region connects the sprawling mountain bike area of Saalbach Hinterglemm with the Epic Bikepark Leogang and the Bike Area in Fieberbrunn. The result: an incomparable variety of trails with more than 90 kilometers of lines & trails that cater to any skill level and a unique network of mountain and gravel bike routes that stretches across two of Austria's states.

From beginner to pro

Work your way up! Getting into a new sport can be daunting but Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn make it as easy as it can be with dedicated practice and beginner areas in all three towns. The Learn to Ride Park at the foot of Saalbach's Kohlmaisbahn, for example, offers four "Mini Lines", a magic carpet and an uphill trail specifically designed to make it easy for beginners to practice their skills or get into the sport. Leogang, on the other hand, offers a 30,000 m² practice area, the Riders Playground. Easy beginner trails, a World Champs Pumptrack with a jump & dirt line and the GoPro Bagjump provide the ideal environment to hone your skills.

Once the fundamentals are on lock, progression is made easy thanks to numerous beginner-friendly lines with many playful elements that will even keep more advanced riders entertained.

Step by step, Riders will find it easy to work their up (or should we say down?) to more and more advanced trails until they eventually make it to the Downhill World Championship track, "Speedster", or the rough and technical X-Line. However, anyone considering hitting these 'pro' trails should really make sure that they are able to comfortably ride all other trails, lines and features in the region before embarking on this this of skill and courage.

Mountain biking without limits

The choice of the next tour depends solely on your own level of fitness as the cross-border mountain bike trail network is almost limitless. In Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn, you will find a wide range of tours that can be individually tailored to your needs. Everyone is free to decide whether the next tour will be a leisurely round through beautiful Alpine pastures, a panoramic tour with the use of the lifts or a challenging marathon. Whatever you choose, you can recharge your batteries and indulge in some refreshments in one of the numerous huts found throughout the mountains and valleys of the region.

Gravel biking in the Alps

Gravel biking is much more than just a discipline, it's a lifestyle. Whether it's extended tours, fast off-road laps on gravel roads and forest paths or leisurely exploration adventures, gravel biking always promises a truly memorable experience. The region, so far largely known as a mountain bike destination, turns out to be an insider's tip for this trendsetting sport. But what distinguishes gravel bikers from road bikers? While you are confined to asphalt roads with a road bike, the somewhat less restrictive geometry and the larger tread and profile of the tires of a gravel bike promise freedom, fun, adventure, and the experience of nature away from busy roads. Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn is a true Alpine gravel road paradise with a near infinite number of different touring options.

Endless scope

Austria's largest biking region offers thrilling biking experiences regardless of which bike you're on. With the E-MTB boom, these experiences have reached new heights. Literally. The charging stations throughout the mountains are ready to recharge your bike, the rental shops have stocked up their E-MTB inventory and all mountain bike routes and trails are, of course, also accessible to E-Bikers without limitations. Furthermore, specially designated E-Bike routes offer easy recommendations for tours that are particularly suited for E-mountain bikers. Stop, recharge, and continue cycling is the motto when you comfortably charge your bike at a mountain hut while taking a short break.

A pure biking experience

In Austria's largest bike region, bikers can expect an all-round carefree package with everything that makes your heart beat faster. Numerous bike shops, top rental services, easy-going bike schools and experienced guides are on hand to guarantee maximum riding enjoyment. In addition, accommodation, restaurants and mountain huts welcome bikers and offer an atmosphere full of hospitality and enthusiasm for biking.

News 2024

There is always plenty to do in between seasons and 2024 is no different as Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn has once again been hard at work to create new trails and further improve the infrastructure. Here's the latest news from Austria's largest bike region:

New "AlteSchmiede Trail" in Leogang:

In September 2023, a real singletrail delicacy, the AlteSchmiede Trail, was opened in Saalfelden Leogang. A natural trail that was built entirely without heavy equipment, using only manpower. This year, for the first time, it will be open all summer long, from 1 June to 15 October 2024. Pure riding pleasure on the new AlteSchmiede Trail will delight young and old alike (note: if you have singletrail experience).

The start of the new AlteSchmiede Trail is located above the mountain cable car station on the Asitz - this can be reached comfortably with the mountain cable car or more sporty via the forest path. On the Asitz Trail in the direction of Saalbach Hinterglemm, it branches off to the right after approx. 50 metres. From there, you follow a hand-built single trail, which offers wonderful views of the imposing massif of the Leoganger Steinberge mountain range from time to time, over natural forest and alpine meadow sections. Flowing turns, Northshores and easy technical passages alternate skilfully. For all advanced bikers, there's a special tip to extend the trail fun even further: at the end of the AlteSchmiede Trail, you can take the forest road towards the start of the lower part of the Matzalm-Trail (note: difficult!) or choose the Flying Gangster Line in the Bikepark Leogang (full-face helmet compulsory!) and then the Schwarzleo-/Knappen-/Forsthof-Trail back down into the valley.

Saalfelden Leogang receives prestigious 'UCI Bike Region Label':

Introduced in 2016, 26 cities and regions worldwide are now entitled to bear the label 'UCI Bike Region' or 'UCI Bike City'. Among them are cities such as Copenhagen, Montreal, Paris, Glasgow, and Vancouver, and regions such as Flanders, Val di Sole, or South Scotland. In Austria, Tyrol (2019) was recognized as a UCI Bike Region - since autumn 2023, Saalfelden Leogang has also joined the elite circle of these regions. The label is awarded by the World Cycling Federation to cities and regions that make a special contribution to cycling. Whether uphill, downhill, or leisurely straight ahead: Saalfelden Leogang has been focusing on cycling for years and has long established itself among the top mountain bike destinations in Europe. Now, the responsible authorities have achieved another milestone. Since autumn 2023, Saalfelden Leogang has been an official bearer of the 'UCI Bike Region' label. One prerequisite for the award is the hosting of a major UCI cycling event, as well as the promotion of public cycling through the implementation of corresponding programs. As part of the award, the UCI focused on aspects such as sustainability, increasing bicycle usage, expanding infrastructure, safety and accident reduction, bike training for youth, and the dedicated funding of planned projects in Saalfelden Leogang.

Upgrade of the Blue Line in Saalbach Hinterglemm:

Something's happening on the Reiterkogel! The Blue Line has undergone a complete reshape, creating a new and unrivalled trail experience. This summer, the flowing single trail also surprises with a partially new routing. The Blue Line can be found right next to the Pro Line on the Reiterkogel and is ideal for freeride newbies and soul riders alike.

Reshape of the Z-Line in Saalbach Hinterglemm:

Just in time for the start of the 2024 bike summer, the Z-Line on the Zwölferkogel is shining in new splendour. A completely new section of the route awaits bikers, and the existing line also has some upgrades to offer. The start of the Z-Line is located directly at the middle station of the 12er KOGEL cable car and is suitable for ambitious freeriders with a medium level of difficulty.

New “Sheepy Hollow-Line” in Saalbach Hinterglemm:

A new line that will connect the Westgipfel and Schattberg in Saalbach Hinterglemm from summer 2023. Starting from the upper section of the Westgipfel, the flowing line offers fantastic panoramic views over 1.1 kilometres. With a bit of luck, you can also spot the fluffy namesakes of the Sheepy Hollow-Line during the downhill ride.

Bike Area Fieberbrunn - Construction of the Streubödenbahn:

Summer 2024 is all about the construction of the Streubödenbahn at the Fieberbrunn mountain railways. Under the motto 'Out with the old, in with the new,' Fieberbrunn's cable car to Lärchfilzkogel will be replaced by a state-of-the-art 10-seater monocable circulating ropeway from the brand Doppelmayr.

Despite this, the biking fun won't be compromised this summer: Both Schweinestberg Trails will remain open, catering to beginners and experts alike with their flowing lines between the middle and valley stations. However, more legwork will be required as there will be no lift transport. The drag lift Obingleitn, along with the associated Easy Park and the pump track at the valley station, will be closed this summer to make way for the construction work.

In short, downhill fun in the Bike Area Fieberbrunn remains unimpeded this summer, and for 2025, we can look forward not only to a new cable car but also to the highest level of bike transport comfort!"

The ONLINE BIKEBONUS:

In summer 2023 we introduced a dynamic bike ticket pricing. That means: Save money with our new ONLINE BIKEBONUS and get your day or multi-day ticket early at a discount. Fixed rates apply at our cable car ticket counters.

If you have booked a JOKER CARD accommodation in Saalbach Hinterglemm, you will get your best price directly on site at the cable car ticket counters in Saalbach Hinterglemm.

NEW from summer 2024: the smartphone becomes a lift ticket! If guests opt for the mobile ticket when purchasing online, they can walk straight through the turnstile with their mobile phone in their pocket!

Environmental awareness and sustainability in the Home of Lässig

"What you take up the mountain, you bring back down to the valley." In Austria's largest bike region, great importance is attributed to treating nature with respect, which is why the motto here is "Keep the mountains clean". In the Epic Bikepark Leogang, for example, all trails are walked and rubbish is collected three times a summer in a joint campaign with the bike community under the title "Clean the trail day". All participants are duly catered for and receive a cool goodie bag. They also have the chance to win a Gravity Card for the 2025 season. Another measure to reduce waste on the mountain is the "Roll-off instead of tear-off" campaign, which bans tear-off film on goggles in the bike park and instead promotes roll-off systems with fixed film rolls.

Great importance is also attached to sustainability in the construction of single trails. For example, many of the trails were built exclusively with natural materials and wooden constructions, so-called "North Shore elements", and built by hand, without the use of heavy equipment. Fans of these single trails will also get their money's worth this year when the natural Alte Schmiede Trail and the new Schweinestberg Trail II start into their first full season.

An important milestone in the development of a sustainably orientated region is the award of the Austrian Ecolabel for Destinations to Saalfelden Leogang. The coveted UCI Bike Region Label was also awarded to Saalfelden Leogang - for only the second time in Austria.

Even travelling to Austria's largest bike region can be made convenient and, above all, sustainable. There are several train stations in the region, from where you can complete the so-called "last mile" by bus, taxi or hotel shuttle. Most local public transport can be used free of charge with the guest card. Some hotels also offer electric car hire. In the spirit of e-mobility, there is even a culinary e-bike pleasure tour in Saalfelden Leogang. Here you cycle from direct marketer to direct marketer, visit their farm shops and sample home-made products.

Lines & Trail Highlights

From the legendary Hacklberg Trail in Saalbach Hinterglemm to the Speedster, the official 2020 Downhill World Championship track in the Epic Bikepark in Leogang, there is something to suit every taste in here! Over 90 km of lines & trails on 7 mountains, easily accessible by up to 9 cable cars in Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn: This is Austria's largest bike region!

Saalbach Hinterglemm

Panorama-Line

Another flowline? Yes, please! The Panorama-Line has quickly become a favorite amongst mountain-bikers. The 3 km-long "downhill pump track" winds its way down from the Panorama Alm to the middle station of the Kohlmaisbahn and promises pure flowline enjoyment with its high berms, tables, step-ups, and step-downs.

X-Line

The X-Line is the "boss" of the bike trails in Saalbach Hinterglemm. Anyone who dares to ride this line should have complete confidence in themselves and their bike as this 6 km-long, technical, and steep trail is littered with root carpets and rock gardens. True downhill riders will find precisely the rough and tricky conditions they are looking for on this trail.

Pro-Line

The Pro-Line is the great-grandfather of bike trails in Saalbach Hinterglemm. The first downhill trail in the region might have been around for a while but it is far from outdated thanks to regular facelifts, such as the recent addition of many new jumps and an improved track layout with multiple choices and Evil Eye features.

Hacklberg-Trail

Legen- wait for it -DARY! With its natural character and unique panorama, the Hacklberg Trail is THE must-ride trail in Saalbach Hinterglemm and leads to the Buchegg Trail which leads directly to the base of the Westgipfelbahn. From 2020 onwards, this results in an almost endless downhill run with over 1,000 meters of descending.

Bergstadl-Trail

Looking for technical, rough single trails? You will find what you're looking for on the Bergstadl Trail! The hearts of technical bikers beat faster here. Hairpin bends, roots and chunky rock gardens are all on the menu of this challenging trail.

The Epic Bikepark Leogang

Hot Shots fired by GoPro

Airtime, airtime, airtime, and more airtime. These are the ingredients for the riding experience on the Hot Shots fired by GoPro! You want something massive ... We have it! A massive pro-jumpline that belongs on every rider's bucket list!

Speedster

Mountain bike history has already been made on this UCI World Championship and World Cup track. With its steep and technical sections, large jumps as well as high-speed and off-camber passages, it is the most technically demanding line in the Epic Bikepark Leogang. A real challenge! Do you dare?

Steinberg Line by FOX

Built in 2019 and a tremendous success! Shaped with beginners and flow lovers in mind, this trail is ridden and loved by all! Starting at the Steinbergbahn mountain station, the Steinberg Line by FOX meanders through the forest to the valley station with an average gradient of approx. 9%. Always in view: the beautiful panorama of the Leoganger Steinberge.

Flying Gangster

The classic! Built in 2001, but still young and snappy. Well-equipped with wall rides, jumps, tables with optional take-offs and drops that provide fun times and plenty of airtime.

Bongo Bongo

This trail branches off halfway down the Flying Gangster and is an insider's tip. It snakes almost entirely through the forest into the valley via narrow turns, steps, roots, rock gardens and North Shore elements. Good line choice and technique are required!

Valis Hölle

"That was a hell of a ride." Originally built for the 2020 Downhill World Championships, this rough, steep and gnarly trail has been open to the public since 2021. Named after local hero and 2021 Overall World Cup Winner Valentina Höll, this trail features very, very steep gradients, lots of off-camber sections and an almost ridiculous amount of roots. Beware – Valis Hölle is even a challenge for the world's best, especially in the wet.

Antonius Trail

This unspoiled, narrow single trail is technically demanding, and the scenery is stunning.

Knappentail

Despite sharing its start and end with the well-known Schwarzleo Trail, the Knappentail follows its own path down the mountain. Similar to its fellow trails like the Schwarzleo-Trail, Forsthoftrail and Matzalmtrail, the Knappentail is a natural singletrail with a few playful North Shore elements thrown into the mix. Once at the bottom, riders can either head over to the Bikepark at the Asitz lift or climb back up to ride one of the other three natural trails in the area.

Matzalm Trail

The Matzalm Trail leads playfully through the forest over roots, rocks, and sometimes down narrow hairpin bends. Ferns, moss, pristine giant trees, and lush Alpine meadows - experience pure nature!

Bike Area Fieberbrunn

Schweinestberg Trail

Undulating sections, flowing curves, North Shores, and - for the more experienced riders - small jumps. A nearly 4 km long trail (S1), which at the end of the day brings a broad grin to the faces of the whole family.

Schweinestberg Trail II

The entrance to the new trail is at the "Schweinestberg Trail" gate - after a few metres the Schweinestberg Trail II then turns right into the forest. The single trail with a length of one kilometre provides fun for advanced bikers with a medium difficulty.

Mountain bike tours featuring all degrees of difficulty

Leisurely tours and easy valley bike trails as well as challenging marathon routes and full-day tours covering several peaks can be found in this cross-provincial bike region. The mountain bike trail network with hundreds of well-signposted tours is almost endless and with up to 9 state-of-the-art cable cars including bike transport, Austria's largest bike region offers the perfect base camp for mountain bikers of all endurance levels.

Touring tips:

Saalbach Hinterglemm - easy

SH 05 – "Talschluss Runde"

The Talschluss loop is the perfect bike tour for beginners or for a leisurely ride and includes an optional culinary stop at an idyllic Alpine hut. Starting from Hinterglemm, riders reach the end of the valley via the Glemmtal cycle path heading upstream. From here, you leisurely gain a few meters in altitude - a total of 480 - until you reach the highest point at the Ossmannalm. If you are biking with children, you can make a detour here on foot to the educational Wildlife Trail. After that, a narrow hiking trail leads back downhill to the starting point. The trail is also suitable for children's bicycle trailers via the Lindlingalm to the Saalalm.

Distance: 18.4 km

Duration: approx. 1:45 h

Ascent/Descent: 480 m

Saalfelden Leogang – intermediate

LE 06 – „Panorama Tour“

The scenery on this tour is impressive. The rugged limestone mountains of the Leoganger Steinberge and the Steinernes Meer to the north, the striking Hochkönig mountain range to the east, the majestic peaks of the Hohe Tauern to the south and the unique mountain range of the Wilder Kaiser mountains to the west. First, you take the Asitzbahn or Steinbergbahn up to the top station (lift ticket required!). Following the Asitztrail (or alternatively the forest road) to the Schönleitenhütte, the route alternates between uphill and downhill, leads past the Jahnhütte and Örgenbauernalm to the Berggasthof Biberg. Here you can enjoy the magnificent panorama on one of the most beautiful mountains in the region and indulge in some culinary treats before tackling the descent towards Leogang. The last few kilometers back to the starting point can then be completed quite comfortably.

Distance: 31.8 km

Duration: approx. 3:30 h

Ascent: 640 m

Descent: 1.570 m

Fieberbrunn – difficult

SH72 – „Hennerleiter Runde“

The "Hennerleiter" - Gerstbodenalm round-tour poses a challenge even for the most toned calves but rewards riders with shady forest passages, a small waterfall, wonderful panoramic views, and delicious snacks. From Gasthof Eiserne Hand in Fieberbrunn, riders follow the course of the stream into the Hörndlinger Graben. The first stop is at the "Schreienden Brunnen", a small waterfall. Via the so-called "Hennerleiter", the route leads up several steep serpentines to the Gerstbodenalm and on towards the Wetterkreuz chairlift valley station in Saalbach. A little further uphill and then, after an enjoyable descent, you are spoiled for choice: stop off at the Spielberghaus or continue cycling for a few minutes to the Burgeralm? Both options pay off! From the Burgeralm, take the forest road back to the starting point.

Distance: 21 km

Duration: approx. 4 h

Ascent/Descent: 870 m

Gravel biking in the Alps

Gravel biking in Austria's largest bike region? The region, so far primarily known as a mountain bike destination, turns out to be an absolute insider's tip for gravel bikers. The new discipline is the evolution of cyclo-cross bikes towards longer tours and fills the niche between road bikes and mountain bikes, delighting endurance-focused cyclists who don't want to be limited to paved roads. As the first tourism region in Austria, Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn has also dedicated itself to gravel bikes and thus adds another stone to the mosaic that is Austria's largest bike region.

Gravel biking means freedom, performance, adventure, and fun. Far away from paved roads, gravel biking is an experience as individual as the rider him or herself. Whether you're touring with overnight bags or you're after fast off-road laps on gravel roads and forest paths or just a leisurely exploratory tour, gravel biking is more than a new, trendy discipline. It's a lifestyle. And this lifestyle is now here.

The small but subtle difference between a gravel bike and a road bike.

While a road bike pretty much confines you to asphalt roads, the less aggressive geometry and the profile of the tires of a gravel bike equal freedom, riding pleasure, adventure and experiencing nature off the beaten track. The area around Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn is a true gravel road paradise with a wide variety of touring options.

Tour suggestion: Two-day gravel tour through Austria's largest bike region

This round-tour can be started from either Saalbach Hinterglemm, Saalfelden, Leogang or Fieberbrunn and, depending on the rider's fitness level, can be completed in one or two days. This scenic tour across a whole variety of terrain is 88.5 km long and includes 2,585 vertical meters of climbing.

Details on the tour can be found here.

E-MTB – pleasure biking & culinary delights

By gondola and e-bike to the most beautiful summits of Saalbach Hinterglemm

Saalbach Hinterglemm is considered a true biking El Dorado. 400 km of mountain bike trails, which are also available to E-bikers without restrictions, and over 40 huts with traditional culinary treats make the region the perfect destination for e-bikers. Marked routes and six cable cars with bike transport offer the possibility to explore the mountains effortlessly whilst enjoying the unique landscape.

Tour tip: BIG (E)PIC

This 55km-long tour features sensational views, numerous opportunities for brakes and local food, five charging stations and some seriously fun trails. Should the tour end up being too long after all, there's plenty of opportunities to take shortcuts back down into the valley.

Culinary E-Bike Pleasure Tour in Saalfelden Leogang

Affectionately designed farm shops, a self-service station for organic vegetables and honey - These are all stops on the e-bike pleasure tour. The route is equally suited for e-bike veterans and beginners. The key thing is that cyclists have time to enjoy a delightful ride. There are plenty of bike services available in the area. By the way, a refreshing change to the numerous food-related stops is a dip in the Ritzensee lake.

Bike & Hike Tour with a picnic at a mountain lake in Fieberbrunn

Getting up early is worth it! And the tour to the Grießenbodenalm in Fieberbrunn is even more so. Equipped with a basket full of homemade products, which you pick up at the Grießenbodenalm, you cycle to a glistening mountain lake amongst beautiful Alpine pastures. Enjoy not only the genuine taste of homemade products but also the wonderful peace and tranquility! Further along this tour, it is best to leave your bike at the Wildalmen, where the Wildalm cheese shop offers cheese tastings. You can also purchase cheese and watch nostalgic tourism films and gaze at photographs from Fieberbrunn in the smallest cinema on the mountain. Thanks to electric support, your calves are still spared up here, and nothing stands in the way of a hike to the Wildseelodersee lake! It takes just around 45 minutes on foot to reach the legendary mountain lake, which is nestled between the peaks of Wildseeloder (2,118) and Henne (2,077).

THE CHALLENGE - Bike your limit

THE CHALLENGE - Bike your limit" is the name of the biggest challenge in Austria's largest bike region that only the best can master. Who can manage to ride the entire area around Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn in one day? Thanks to modern cable cars, it can be done in one day! Be prepared for pure trail pleasures in Saalbach Hinterglemm and challenging bike park lines in Leogang. Fieberbrunn, known for its enjoyable biking, provides fun and scenic views while riding the Schweinestberg-Trail.

"THE CHALLENGE - Bike your limit" can be started from any village or cable car

Usually, the challenge also includes the Schweinestberg Trail in Fieberbrunn, which was newly built in 2022. This year, however, it can only be reached after an ascent of around 400 metres, as the Streuböden cable car is being rebuilt.

A successful participation in this year's challenge is therefore possible without the Schweinestberg Trail due to the new construction of the Streubödenbahn.

The end of the tour is your starting point, and if you were able to master THE CHALLENGE, you definitely deserve an after-ride beer in the bike-friendly restaurants and bars, where you can park your bike in sight without worrying and let the day come to an end.

Are you ready for the "THE CHALLENGE"?

All those who have successfully completed THE CHALLENGE, registered on skiline.cc and who can show the QR code received by e-mail after completing the round will receive a cool water bottle at the main cash desks.

Locations: H1 Kohlmaisbahn, A1 Schattberg X-press, B1 12er KOGEL Bahn, D1 Reiterkogelbahn, L1 Asitzbahn, L3 Steinbergbahn and F1 Streubödenbahn.

All successful "Challengers" who have registered and appear in the Hall of Fame will also be entered into a random raffle for three main prizes at the end of the season:

- 1x 1 week holiday in Austria's largest bike region incl. bike ticket
- 2x bike ticket for one week
- 3x bike ticket for one day
